

>> Toys In The Sun Run

What does it take to pull off South Florida's signature holiday toy drive and fundraising event? 32 motorcycle clubs, more than 30,000 motorcycles, 22 police departments, 230 officers, hundreds of hours of planning – and the dedication and heart of thousands of participants. Bob Amchir founded the event 27 years ago when he was President of the Wings of Gold Motorcycle club. Although he passed away in 2006, his son David has continued the effort, and the Run has donated more than $20 million in toys to needy children and raised more than $15 million for local pediatric hospitals, including Joe DiMaggio Children's Hospital. A tremendous thanks to Clifford Frommer, who took most of these photos, as well as David Sopahn for his group photo of the gang from the David Posnack JCC.
